

CASE STUDY

AXA PPP Healthcare Forman Refurbishment Project

The Challenge

When AXA PPP Healthcare wanted to convert their staff restaurant into a multi-purpose media and presentation suite they looked to Voicepath Ltd.

The brief was to provide Audio Visual (AV) components into a space where AXA PPP staff could hold corporate meetings and events, private functions and social club meetings such as Cinema Club, Video Gaming Club and Poker Club.

The solution would require a new voice and data backbone infrastructure that allowed for future expansion, upgrading of the original AV components and a Local Area Network (LAN) for access to business networks.

The Solution

Our extensive knowledge of multi media components and infrastructure installation allowed us to design a cost effective system that would optimise the AV equipments capabilities and provide a flexible easy to use solution.

The collaboration resource network designed by Voicepath consisted of professional grade Sony LCD monitors, Panasonic HD projector, Eyeline projection screen, Smart Wireless microphone components, Denon professional audio equipment and Mordaunt short speakers.

Room control is operated from a bespoke IKONAVS 16 button panel that enables direct control over AV devices such as video, audio and XGVA components.

The Result

The Forman Suite, with a capacity of 150, is a spectacular multi media space. It provides large format HD video with supplementary LCD screens for larger audiences; stereo sound with option to upgrade to 5.1 surround sound; Satellite TV; a wireless microphone system and a one point interface, all controlled by a simple control pad. The new LAN infrastructure provides network access and teleconferencing.

It was a challenge to adapt the many different types of media required for this installation make them all interchangeable and able to operate independently of each other. Voicepath's experience with multi media solutions met all the challenges resulting in a state of the art meeting room where AXA employees attend visually engaging business meetings; enjoy club nights be it gaming or watching Movies in HD; watch sports events on a large screen or provide background music for private functions.
